

COMMERCIAL AND MONEY MATTERS.

The domestic debt of Ohio, redeemable at the pleasure of the State, has been called in, and $250,000 appropriated to its redemption. Of surplus funds, $30,000 has been appropriated to the redemption of the 7 per cent stock. Under the law of March 4, 1849, $700,000 of the stock of 1850 have been already redeemed by the issue of stock of a later period, at a premium of from 5½ to 8 per cent for the stock issued; realizing a profit to the State of $41,000. The indebtedness of the State is thus exhibited in the Auditor's report:

Of the reimbursable debt of the State, $16,880, $20,50 is payable at New York. The interest of five and six per cent stocks is payable semi-annually on the first days of January and July. The interest of the 7 per cent stock is payable on the first days of May and November.

Total reimbursable debt of the State.....$17,300,624 20
Or, deducting for the sum the seven per cent due, which the sum is.....$16,880,200

It is especially pledged the amount of the debt to be paid by the ordinary revenue of the State, i.e.,.....$15,832,452 20

By the law of February 24, 1848, becoming operative during the present year, a sum commencing with $100,000, and increasing annually by the rate of 6 per cent compound interest, is to be annually appropriated from the general revenues to the redemption of our State stocks. This sum, with other revenues applicable to the same object, derived from the sale of lands, &c., and which may be safely estimated at $300,000 annually, will easily accumulate and pay off the State debt in 1853.

THE COMPANY, having their capital all paid in in cash, are prepared to insure any number of mechanics, household, factory, &c., and to part, their cargoes, against loss or damage by fire. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

The citizens of Bath have voted to petition the Legislature of Maine to allow them to loan the credit of their city to the Kennebec and Portland Railroad, receiving proper security therefor.

The Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroad is progressing with gratifying celerity. We find in the Pittsburg Gazette the subjoined information regarding this important movement:

Arrangements have been made to urge forward the work as rapidly as possible on the whole eighty miles of the Eastern Division, from Pittsburgh to the connection with the Cleveland Road. The means now provided for that part of the work in Pennsylvania, are sufficient to complete the grading and bridging to the State line, and to leave a surplus of about $150,000, applicable to the superstructure and equipment. The amount required for the grading and bridging between the State line and Salem, has been raised by the citizens of that town and its vicinity, and a subscription is now in progress in this city for the construction of the remaining thirteen miles west of Salem to Alliance, near Mount Union. This last link of the Eastern Division runs through a corner of Mahoning County, and the means for making it will have to come from Pittsburg. The amount will not be large, and the Directors are determined to adhere to the policy of incurring no indebtedness, except for superstructure and equipment. This is essentially necessary, in order to enable the Company to obtain its iron on favorable terms. But a few of our citizens are fully aware of the importance of the speedy completion of the Eastern Division of the Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroad. As soon as it can be completed, the Railroads in Ohio, with which it will connect, will be ready for use, and railroad cars will be able to run from Pittsburg to Cincinnati, through Cleveland and Columbus. The route, it is true, will be 390 miles long, and will be somewhat circuitous, but it can be run readily in from 18 to 20 hours, and will be nearly 100 miles shorter than the present river route. The completion of the whole of our Western Road will shorten this distance from 50 to 60 miles, but the opening of the Eastern Division will be one of the brightest days that ever dawned upon Pittsburg. It will give us a continuous railroad communication, all the year round, with the heart of the State of Ohio. By a united and vigorous effort this may be accomplished next year, and the cars from Cincinnati may be rattling in our streets before those from Philadelphia. Let us hope that both roads may be ready to be opened at the same time, and as early next year as it can be achieved. On the 8th ult. the line through Columbiana County, Ohio, is to be let at Salem, including the grading and masonry, to the intersection of the Cleveland Railroad. It is expected the locomotives and cars will be running from Pittsburg to Beaver and New-Brighton in July next.
